VOL. XVII. MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE, MIDDLEBURY, APRIL 27, 1921 No. 25

VARSITY TO OPEN WITH COLBY FRIDAY

Will Oppose Colby and Northeastern Nines Here Last of Week

ELMER PROBABLE PITCHER

Acting President Collins Will Toss Out Ball On Friday

The formal opening of the baseball season will occur Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when the 'Varsity nine will be opposed by Colby College on Porter Field. The second game will be played the following afternoon with Northeastern University opposing, the time being one-half hour earlier.

Dr. Edward Day Collins, Acting-President of the College, will be among the spectators at Friday's game and will toss out the ball which is to be used against the first Colby batsman. The umpire is to be Harold I. O'Brien of Holy Cross.

Both of the visiting teams will come here with the advantage of having played one or more games this season. Colby defeated Eastern A. A. Saturday by a score of 9-6, and Northeastern has already opposed several nines in the region of the Hub.

Elmer and Hastings will in all probability be Coach Morey's selection for the twirling in the week-end games, the former in the first, on Friday. Hulihan, whose arm caused him considerable inconvenience last season, is pronounced to be in first class condition for the coming schedule but it is doubtful that he will be seen in action before another week. Mead is without question the most likely candidate for the backstop position and may be expected to do the receiving on Friday.

P. Ross, at short, and White, on third, are this year's newcomers in the infield. Both are at present on top in the close race for their respective positions because of having the edge in batting on D. Ross and Vose, other contenders for these places.

In the outfield Coach Morey will use Whitmore, and Hulihan and Hastings, providing that Elmer starts in the box. There is likelihood that this latter arrangement, of alternating the pitchers between the outfield and in the pivotal position, will be continued throughout the season.

The showing made by Coach Morey's selections in the opening games will determine largely the make up of the team later in the season. Middlebury has an exceptionally able pitching staff this year and a successful season seems assured if the other member of the team back up this department with good fielding and consistent performance with the stick.

Middlebury's batting order: Stockwell, 2nd b.; P. Ross, s. s.; Hulihan, c. f.; Elmer, p. or l. f.; Timberman or Gallagher, 1st b.; White, 3rd b.; Mead, c.; Hastings, p. or l. f.; Whitemore, r. f.

SOCIAL WORKER WILL SPEAK HERE SATURDAY

Mr. Paul Beisser, Field Secretary of the New York School of Social Work, 105 East Twenty-second street, New York City, will visit Middlebury on Saturday and will discuss the opportunities for college men and women in the field of social service at the morning chapel service. Mr. Beisser has been invited to address the members of the Economics 2 class at nine o'clock and will conduct a group meeting early in the afternoon.

BOSTON SYMPHONY TO PLAY HERE

Pierre Monteux to Conduct World-Famous Orchestra in Mead Chapel December 16

A contract has just been signed with the Boston Symphony management for a concert to be presented by that orchestra on December 14, as one of the attractions to be offered by the Student Life Committee in the entertainment course for the coming college year.

The Boston Symphony orchestra was founded in 1881 by Major Henry L. Higginson of Boston and was permanently endowed by him. Under the conductorship of Karl Muck this ensemble attained the enviable position of the leading orchestra of the world. When Richard Strauss, who is probably the leading exponent of the present modern school, visited this country a few years ago, he expressed the wish that he might take the orchestra with him to Europe, to present the symphonies of Beethoven to the musical elite of the old world. Such a remark is very significant of the international reputation of the orchestra. The most distinguished artists of the musical world consider it a distinction to be asked to perform with the orchestra.

At the outbreak of the great war Dr. Muck was requested to resign his position as director and Henri Rabaud consented to accept the post for the period of a year. At the expiration of that time Pierre Monteux of the Metropolitan Opera of New York assumed the reins of control and since then the orchestra has remained under his leadership.

The concerts presented by this body in New York and other musical centers are the musical events of the year and Middlebury is very fortunate in securing its services.

MODERN LANGUAGE ASSN'S TO MEET HERE THIS WEEK

A French play "Le francais tel qu'on le parle" and a Spanish play "Los pantalones" will be presented by modern language students in McCullough Gymnasium Friday evening at eight o'clock, for the benefit of the delegates of the annual meeting of the Vermont Classical and Modern Language Associations. Business meetings of the Association will be held Friday and Saturday.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT "APRIL FOLLIES"

Crowd at Opera House Registers Approval of Performance

THE PROFITS EXCEED $200

Money to Be Devoted to Campus Athletic Fund

Before an audience which filled all the seats in the Opera House and overflowed into additional chairs placed in the hall ways, the "April Follies" was enthusiastically received on its first annual presentation. That the performance was a distinct success financially is proven by the fact that probably about thirty or forty dollars was raised above the required minimum set at $191.00. The net proceeds will be devoted entirely to the interests of The Campus Athletic Scholarship and the College Outing Club, a portion of the receipts being used to cover deficit caused by the Outing Club's trips this winter.

Entertainment Varied

The entertainment which was a well-balanced variety show, combining movies and vaudeville acts, was under the direction of Coach Dave B. Morey and showed the benefit of considerable attention and preparation for presentation.

Individual acting honors undoubtedly go to Paul M. Ross who was featured in an original representation of a country minister which probably brought forth more laughs than any other single number. Ross conducted a mock sermon, taking as his text "Mother Hubbard's Cupboard, and interpreted the words with considerable exactness together with vivid imagination.

A college quartette composed of Swan '21, Cole '22, Cowles '22 and Hunter '23 rendered new selections which were warmly received and which occasioned many encores.

A series of shadow pictures portraying well known professors and college scenes were very clever, and a musical act by The Freshman Trio, composed of Gannon on the guitar, Durkee the saxaphone, and Hunter the violin, also scored generous applause.

A novelty "Her Dream" featured a town boy of immature age who rendered popular songs, past and present, with considerable enthusiasm and vigor if not with finished technique and exquisite tone color.

Fitzpatrick's Harmony Five Jazz Orchestra played during the movie acts and contributed to the success of the entertainment. The films included pictures of the Washington-Oregon Football Game on New Year's day, the Dartmouth Winter Carnival and a five real comedy "Stop Thief!" featuring Tom Moore.

Praise for Coach Morey

To Coach and Mrs. Morey who originated the idea of the performance, more than any others must be given credit for the success of the project in every particular. The importance of tireless efforts in promoting, advertising, and directing the show cannot be estimated too highly.

In a statement to The Campus Coach Morey expressed a desire that this paper make known his sincere appreciation of the work of the performers and all others who contributed their parts gratuitously and unselfishly in making The Follies the success that it undoubtedly was.

Valedictory

Another year is over for The Campus. With this issue the 1921 Board formally retires from active management of the paper, making way for new blood and new ideas, to join the long line of triumvirates whose pleasant duty it has been to publish a student newspaper since 1830.

And a real pleasure it indeed was to be occupied with a factor of undergraduate life which is depended upon to deliver material results regularly to the College. Difficulties and occasional discouragements have been but momentary—we lose sight of them in the light of a satisfaction which comes from knowing that we have done our best.

There is an old saying to the effect that nothing remains at a standstill; everything moves ahead or goes backward. With this in mind we have endeavored to function as a Middlebury paper—to preserve the best of that which was handed on to us and to improve where improvement, within the range of our faculties, was possible. It has been our aim to interpret Middlebury, its aims, its traditions and its problems, to the best of our ability, to commend and to criticize but with an eye toward the largest and most ennobling interests of the institution.

We have great confidence in the Board which is to assume control next week. Its members are, for the most part, better trained and more conscientiously devoted to their work than any similar body for a considerable length of time has been. The Campus, in such able hands, seems assured of an era of increased influence and still broader service.

It is with unalloyed pride that every Middlebury alumnus must review the steps in the development of Alma Mater which have taken place within the last century and a fifth. Glorious, indeed, in retrospect, but in inspirational qualities no more prolific than the future which these years of building have opened up before us, of a Middlebury, bigger, better and exerting a more dominant force in the world of to-morrow. To the achievement of this vision, the hastening of its fulfillment, The Campus has been wholeheartedly dedicated. We go out conscious of the privilege of having been allowed to act as recorder for the College during a brief cycle of its existence, and hopeful that The Campus will be able constantly to increase its service as new hands control its destinies.

Delta Upsilon Dance

Middlebury Chapter of Delta Upsilon held its annual formal dance Saturday afternoon and evening, April 23, at McCullough Gymnasium. Music was furnished by Fitzpatrick's orchestra. The fraternity colors of blue and gold were carried out in the decorations. A novel effect was secured by the lighting arrangement, consisting of a large light in the center and reading lamps at the corners of the dance floor. A very tasty supper was served at Hepburn Commons at seven-thirty.

The patrons and patronesses were Professor and Mrs. Cady, Professor and Mrs. Voter, Professor Davis, and Mrs. M. E. Davis.

Among the guests were Coach and Mrs. Morey; Misses Joyce Hindley and Kathryn Botsford, Rutland; Miss Rena Jimmo, Bristol; and Paul O. Hastings, '23.

Representatives were Alpha Sigma Phi, A. F. Gollnick; Chi Psi, F. C. Brigham; Delta Kappa Epsilon, H. J. Wright; Kappa Delta Rho, G. T. Whitmore; and A. N. Ferry.

Junior Class Entertained

The junior class was entertained last Thursday evening by Mrs. E. C. Bryant and Mrs. W. S. Burrage at the home of Mrs. Bryant on Storrs Avenue. An attractive musical program was offered consisting of pianoforts selections from the Peer Gynt Suite by Miss Woodruff '22, Miss Gaylor '22 and Professor Hathaway.

Dr. George Dow Scott '95 of New York City will read a paper on "Anthrax in Infancy and Childhood" before the New York State Medical Society in Brooklyn, May 4. A treatise upon this subject concerning the very young, it is believed, has never before been attempted.

The Periscope

There being a certain irreconcilable few who expect us to comment on our recent trip to The Marble City of Vermont, we feel that we should hardly disappoint them. But we strive to please and therefore will only say that Ye Ed and we railroaded to Rutland this week-end to collect items which a very fair critic now advises us not to print.

"A Pome for the Greek 10 Thespians"

If you're fond of blood and thunder,
And of murder, gore and hate,
Or of rending limbs assunder,
Come to Greek with us at eight.

You will hear of Clytemnestra,
King Agamemnon's spouse,
Who did foully murder Aggie,
When she got him in the house.

You will hear of haughty Xerxes,
Who set out to conquer Greece
Till Darius came from out his grave,
And told his son to cease.

You will hear of the Eryinis
Who will perch upon your door
And will haunt you to the 'finis,'
Till you wallow in your gore.

Of Oedipus, the child of fate,
Who murdered his own Dad,
Till blinded and consumed with hate
He finally did go mad.

So again I say, if you delight
In murder, blood and sorrow,
And like the tale of a good fight—
Just come with us tomorrow.

GAME WITH HOLY CROSS ADDED TO TENNIS SCHEDULE

Work on the tennis courts having been completed this afternoon, Manager Gollnick called practice for all tennis candidates. The tennis schedule has been further augmented by a game with Holy Cross on May 5, which is to be played away and there is a strong possibility of a game with Clark College at Worcester, Mass. The three engagements with Holy Cross, on the above date, and with Williams and R. P. I. on May 28 and 29, will constitute one of the most extensive out-of-town seasons yet undertaken by a tennis team representing Middlebury College. The College Spring Tennis Tournament will be held after the Holy Cross game.

COMMITTEE PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

New Curtain for Gymnasium Stage—Start Tree Planting Soon—Raise Money by Entertainments

At a meeting of the Prudential Committee of the trustees of the College held in the office of the Treasurer, Saturday afternoon, April 23, it was voted to approve the plan of the committee appointed to report on the matter of procuring a new curtain for the gymnasium. This committee consists of Professors Lacalle, Burrage, and Robinson. The Prudential Committee also approved the suggestion of the Provost for the installation of certain improvements in Starr and Painter halls which will contribute to the convenience of students during the regular college year, and also in summer session. It was voted to make a beginning in carrying out the planting plan drawn up a year ago by a landscape architect.

The Committee approved the recommendation of the Provost that the student musical organizations be given an opportunity to provide the commencement concert, and that the College guarantee a minimum of $250.00 for this purpose.

The recently purchased curtain will be of dark blue velour and will part in the center and draw to the wings instead of raising as the old type did. It is from the stage property company of Louis Kuhn, New York and will cost $500. A series of lectures on foreign travel by several of the Professors, as well as impromptu vaudeville shows given by the students during the month of May, are expected to partially defray its cost. The new curtain will be installed in time for the presentation of the Junior Play and will be used during the summer for the theatricals given in connection with the summer session.

Program Arranged

The following program has been arranged by a committee composed of Professors Moreno-Lacalle, Burrage and Robinson:

COLLEGE PRESS CLUB REORGANIZES

To Be a Distinctly Undergraduate Organization—Eddy Elected President and Lyons Sec.-Treas.

With the election of officers for the ensuing year and the appointment of membership and constitution committees, steps were taken Wednesday toward the reorganization of the College Press Club along exclusively student lines. Under the personal direction of Professor W. E. Davison the Club has, during the year and a half of its existence, completed a record of splendid service as an official news bureau for the College.

The change in the administrative policy comes as a result of Professor Davison's inability to devote sufficient time to this work in the future and was undertaken at his suggestion.

The president of the reorganized club is Henry H. Eddy '23. The other officers elected are Lila E. Winchester '22, vice president, and R. W. Lyons '23, secretary and treasurer. Ruth Coolidge '22 was elected chairman of the Committee on Membership while Murray Adams '23 will head a committee of three which is to draft a constitution. All of the officers have been associated with the club during the past year.

The present plan of the Press Club is to conduct its work in accordance with the same general policy which has been established by the older organization. Assignments for the remainder of the year will be held within the near future.

The club will be a distinctly undergraduate institution and a set of eligibility requirements is being drafted which will provide for a minimum of published material in newspapers to which the club is contributing.

PLAN ROUND ROBIN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

It is rumored that a Round-Robin Tennis Tournament will be held on the college courts some Saturday early in May. Competition will be open to mixed-doubles teams and a small fee will probably be charged all entrants in order that a suitable prize may be purchased for the winner. Further announcement of the tourney will be made in The Campus as soon as the courts are in good playing condition.

Herbert W. Denio '88, of New York City, was recently elected librarian of the Vermont Historical Society at Montpelier. Mr. Denio has been employed for some years in the Huntington private library, the most valuable private collection in the world.

OUTLOOK FOR TRACK NOW MORE FAVORABLE

Coach Brown Encouraged by New Material for Track and Field Events

Very general improvement was easily discernible to the few spectators who dared the biting winds last Saturday to see Coach Brown's squad of track athletes compete in a series of time and competitive trials. The team seems hoodooed about getting good days for these trials, but nevertheless made an unusually good showing. The condition of the track is much improved since the recent rains, and is in better than mid-season shape last year. A new take-off block for the broad jumpers was recently installed, and lanes for the 220-yard dashes and hurdles will be marked off soon.

Baldwin '22 and Sikorski '23 were recent and much needed additions to the squad of shot putters, which now consists of Robinson, Brown '22, Jewett and Reinbrecht. Kendall is another new man who is showing up particularly well on the half-mile, while Peck is working hard to lower the hurdle record he made at the Interscholastic last year. Altogether, the Coach is much encouraged and a very successful season is predicted for the Blue and White team.

Kaleidoscope to Be Ready May 1

According to a statement by Editor Whitney, work on The Kaleidoscope has been progressing rapidly and the indications are that the books will be ready for distribution not later than May 1st. Both the first or galley proof and the final page proof of the entire book have been read and returned to the Tuttle Company, of Rutland, who are doing the printing. Actual printing of the first sections of the book was begun three weeks ago.

The binding is to be done in blue cloth with a pebble finish, with a very original and attractive cover design embossed in gold, thus bringing the class colors out prominently. There are a number of new sections this year, including Debating, Tennis, and Outing Club, and many improvements such as Junior cartoons, a book-plate and others, which "must be seen to be appreciated".

J. H. Prescott '22, who has been seriously ill with la grippe for more than a week, is improving.

DR. WEIGLE PLEADS FOR HONEST SPEECH

Yale Professor Scores Lies, Slang, and Profanity at Vesper Service

Dr. Luther A. Weigle of New Haven, Conn., was the speaker at vespers Sunday afternoon, April 24. His text was from Matthew 5:37—"Let your speech be yea, yea, nay, nay." The speaker urged good faith and integrity in our speech, saying that it was not for concealing our thoughts, but for communicating them. He spoke of the evils of speech, such as slang, profanity, and lies. He answered the question, "Is a lie ever justifiable?" emphatically in the negative and likened a lie to the incision made by a surgeon in an operation. The incision was simple compared to the task of re-joining all the delicate parts of the body into their proper place, and so a lie seems simple enough until we come to patch up the loose ends and reestablish confidence in ourselves. He said that we should put gossip through the three sieves, Truth, Kindness and Necessity, before we decide to spread it.

Dr. Weigle is a graduate of Gettsburg College, Lutheran Theological Seminary, and since 1916 has been professor of Christian nurture at Yale University. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Tau Omega, and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities, and is the author of several religious books.

Prof. Abbott on "Americanization"

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting held Thursday evening in Pearsons Social Hall, Professor C. F. Abbott spoke on the topic of Americanization. He interpreted this term as standing for three things in relation to the foreigner; education, naturalization and finally a complete understanding and assimilation of American Spirit and Ideals. While the education of the, for the most part, extremely ignorant alien, and his naturalization so that in name he becomes an American citizen, are both extremely important, it is the feeling with which he regards America and Americans which is after all most vital. The foreigner should have the right to home and happiness, the right to play and the right to work and in return the right to receive good wages and good treatment. "God forgive us, if we think we are superior persons", for by carrying on this idea of superiority, which many people have acquired toward foreigners, we are killing Americanization. A great deal has been done officially in the large cities to make the condiition of the foreigner better, but since he is found practically everywhere, it is up to us to overcome the idea of ourselves as superior creatures and instead to rub elbows with him wherever the opportunity is offered.

Word has been received that Ray Fisher '10, Cincinnati National league pitcher, who coached the Middlebury basketball team in the season of 1919-1920, has left the team to accept the position of baseball coach at the University of Michigan. He will take the place of Derrill Pratt who is expected to join the Red Sox.

Chi Psi-17: D. U.-0
